

There are two distinct events that will trigger a charge on your Card:

When Placing a New Order

When you place a new order, your Card will be charged for the setup charges as applicable. The amount will be displayed in the "Setup" column of the Checkout page. If the payment fails your order will not be processed and you will return to the Checkout page.

Monthly Billing

We do our billing run during the first week of each month and covers the previous month. Your monthly bill will include:

- Pro-rata charges for all new services that started during the billing period
- The next month's rental charges (always in advance)
- Call charges for calls made during the billing period

Your (default) Card will be charged on or shortly after the Due Date stated in your bill, which is usually 14 days from the bill date
